On October 28, 2008, the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors adopted the Baldwin Hills Community Standards District (CSD) which established new development standards and operating procedures for oil and gas production in the area.

However, issues remain regarding the ability of the ordinance to adequately address the surrounding community's concerns related to "sights, sounds, smells and safety".

On August 4, 2009, under Supervisor Mark Ridley-Thomas' urging, the Board of Supervisors directed County staff to conduct a review of the CSD and report back with recommended modifications.

Come share your ideas as the Baldwin Hills CSD Review gets underway!
